ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

Associate Vice President Research

Athabasca University | October 2020 – Present

- Member of AU's Senior Leadership Team responsible for strategy development and execution at one of Alberta's four comprehensive and academic research universities.
- Since 2020, increased the number of faculty holding external grants (19% by 2023), the number AU learners employed in research (123% increase by 2023), and supported the nomination, renewal, or recruitment of 5 Canada Research Chairs in alignment with AU's 2029 program equity targets.
- Led IDEA Lab and Academy as a digital research and student training initiative, which garnered the CAUBO Quality & Innovation Award (2023), CARA Innovation Award (2023), and ASTech Regional Innovation Award (2022).
- Sponsored the development and approval of AU's Research Data Management \(RDM\) Strategy, Canada Research Chairs EDI Action Plan, and led Strategic Research Plan redesign process, prioritizing Indigenous engagement, consultation, and inclusion of diverse perspectives and members of equity-deserving groups in all processes and plans.
- Expanded AU's network connections through memberships with Research Impact Canada, The Conversation, the Canadian Centre for Diversity and Inclusion, and ensured AU had academic liaisons at all three Tri-Agency leaders or delegate networks.

- Secured AU's anchor institution role for the Athabasca United Way Social Impact Lab and partnership position on major external awards including Canada First Research Excellence Fund and Major Innovation Fund programs with the University of Calgary.
- Lead change, inspired faculty, and developed internal collaborations across AU's five faculties and administrative units for strategic initiatives including: Canada's first implementation of Pure, the Research with Reach series (69,000+ views), and the Designing Your Research for Impact open course for students and early career researchers.
- Represented AU's research priorities and opportunities for external stakeholders and networks at the regional, provincial, and federal levels (e.g., community groups, industry, funding agencies, government agencies and ministries).
- Oversaw the teams managing all matters of research administration, compliance, and reporting of AU's portfolio of sponsored research for industry grants, internal awards, and external agencies (SSHRC, NSERC, CIHR, Canada Research Chairs, Canada Foundation for Innovation, Mitacs, and Alberta Innovates).
- Matured and reshaped the "Research Centre" into a central "Research Office," comprising a team of 15 roles, with talent attracted or retained for research development and services.
- Engaged across AU's shared governance structure to develop, align, and implement strategic priorities, build research culture, and elevate the priority and profile of research across and beyond AU.

PUBLIC KNOWLEDGE MOBILIZATION

I bridge insights from my academic research to impacts for members of the interested public beyond the academic guild to minimize barriers to knowledge and create opportunities for dialogue on research topics and outcomes.

Digital Media and Online Engagement

- Partner on the Research with Reach knowledge mobilization series, promoting signature areas of research by profiling Athabasca University researchers (69,000+ views), 2021 – 2023.
- “How Scribes of the Ancient World were the Pollsters of Their Day.” The Conversation Canada. November 23, 2020.
- Inscribed YouTube Channel: 4,200+ subscribers and 250,000+ views of digital shorts on research outcomes and playlists of open-course content.

- In celebration of the 70th anniversary of the discovery of the scrolls, I partnered with the open-access site Ancient Jew Review to deliver a scholarly forum of current questions and future directions, garnering more than 9,000 impressions.
- Coordinated streaming support for special sessions on manuscript forgeries at the 2017 International Meeting of the Society of Biblical Literature in Berlin via the Dead Sea Scrolls Institute social channels, which reached nearly 2,000 students and scholars worldwide.
- “How the Dead Sea Scrolls Discovery Changed Christianity.” Relevant. September 5, 2017.

PEER REVIEW ACTIVITIES

I contribute to the academic guild through invited peer-review activities with the following publications: Dead Sea Discoveries, Journal of Ancient Judaism, Interpretation, Distant Worlds Journal, Currents in Biblical Research, and the Studies on the Texts of the Desert of Judah monograph series.

STUDENT SUPERVISIONS

I prioritize student mentorship and inclusion in my own research program as well as through strategic initiatives to enable and empower other researchers to build capacity in their teams through innovative student training.

- Supervisions within my own research program: Kyung Baek (postdoctoral, 2018 – 2020), Matthew Hama (doctoral, 2018 – 2023), Shelby Bennet (masters, 2018 – 2021; winner of the “Three Minute Thesis” First Prize and People’s Choice Award, TWU, 2020), Elly Wendel (masters, 2023), Daniel Hawkins (masters, 2nd reader, 2017), Joshua Matson (masters, 2nd reader, 2016).
- IDEA Academy at Athabasca University: I visioned and sponsored a work-integrated-learning initiative in digital-first research that supported 13 learners in certification, training, and deployment on 26 research projects across disciplines, providing 4000+ hours of research experience.
- Trinity Western University Dead Sea Scrolls Institute: Under my leadership, the membership model expanded for more inclusive and diverse representation of 10 graduate researchers, postdoctoral fellows, and associates.

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS
